SUGAR

Willet & Gray's Sugar Journal for Feb. 3 says of the raw sugar market: Visible Supply.—Total stock of Europe and America, 3,222,813 tons against 3,592,032 tons last year at the same uneven dates. The decrease of stock is 369,219 tons, against a decrease of 386,178 last week. Total stocks and drafts together show a visible supply of 3,318,813 tons against 3,663,032 tons last year, or a decrease of 344,219 tons.

Raw.—The spot quotation has advanced from 4.05c. per pound 94 test centrifugal to 4.17c. per pound this week, caused by improving markets abroad and improving demand at home from refiners to secure a considerable amount of sugar under the market depression of the previous week. The business of the week comprised sufficient amount to bring the total crop sales this season to date up to about 400,000 tons, of which 142,000 tons have already been received here and with 28,000 tons afloat, leaves some 200,000 tons sold and not delivered, principally for February and early March delivery. This amount is normal and not abnormal for the refiners' requirements at this time of its arrival, and leaves the Cuban market in good position for further future contract sales at full prices. In the meantime, some 100,000 bags are on the market for sale at this writing at 2.81c. c. and 1. basis (equal 4.17c. landed), and these mostly in moderate amounts. A quick purchase of these offerings would leave the market in still stronger position, while should buying be delayed some 100 tons in instances might be inclined to concede a small fraction to dispose of a rather shipment, so that while the tone and tenor of the market as to sustain full-up prices, yet there is a slight possibility of temporary concessions for reasons. The close is easier, with sellers at 2.78c. c. and 1. and buyers holding off.

The general trend is towards eventual further improvement. The sales for January shipment, Cuba to the Argentine railway, which raised the quotation from 4.05c. to 4.17c. were made on February 1st, after a sale the same day of Porto Rico centrifugals for immediate shipment at 4.14c.

The Cuba cable information gives receipts at six principal ports 70,000 tons, the largest receipts during a week of any Cuba crop, with exports 45,000 tons, and stock in six principal ports 164,000 tons, with 169 centrals standing an increase of five for the week.

In 1907 the entire number of centrals in the island of Cuba were working during the corresponding week of that year, while now six or seven remain to begin grinding.

We estimate the visible production of the entire island of Cuba to date at 327,000 tons against 236,000 tons last year and 353,000 tons in 1907, an increased crop production of 91,000 tons over last year.

In Europe, the depression previously noted came to an end and renewed advance began with vigor, bests early this week touching 12 1/2, 13 1/2, and 14 1/2, which point they have advanced to 15 1/2 for February and 13 1/2, 2 1/2, for May delivery, closing slightly easier at 14 1/2, reaction.

F. O. Licht cooled weather in Europe unfavorable for field work. His latest estimate of European beet crop in detail is given elsewhere; also, his opinion regarding the sowings for the next crop, which may prove quite important in the distant future. Details of damage to crops in France by reason of the floods have not yet been received. Should the wheat fields have been injured, these may be plowed under and sown to best seed, increasing the beet crop somewhat thereby but this is only a surmise thus far on our part. Elsewhere in Europe, material increases of sowings are doubtful.

An interesting feature this week is the table of parity of cane sugar prices given on another page. Nothing of special interest has come to hand from other sugar growing countries.

At the close enquiries are still making for Cuba centrals for shipment to Europe, with new crops of San Domingo to United Kingdom on the basis of 12 1/2, 10 1/2, c. and 1. The latest enquiries of Cuba are for April shipment on basis of 2 1/2c. c. and 1. New York.

Thus far some 20,000 tons Cubans have been sold for shipment to the United Kingdom at prices understood to equal to a shade higher than quotations current here at time of sale.

Kaufman Beats Old Jack O'Brien

The fight at the National Athletic Club, Philadelphia, between Jack O'Brien and Al Kaufman was more like a blood-bath than a pugilistic treat. Kaufman may be said to have won, but he just did not put the elusive Jack O'Brien out. It was because of Kaufman's slowness that O'Brien managed to make his escape. At the end of the fight the Californian was leg and arm weary and his face crimson from cuts.

Kaufman was so slow that the crowd thought he was easing up for O'Brien's benefit and it gave vent to its displeasure by hissing and cat-calling.

O'Brien clearly showed that he is all in as a fighter. He had none of his old-time speed and he could not have knocked Kaufman's hat off had he won it during the fray. He wobbled after every mix-up and when Kaufman did manage to connect solidly, he turned tail and danced around the ring, grabbing at the ropes at times to help in the matter of speed. He ducked and made Kaufman miss a great deal toward the end. Kaufman floored O'Brien with a snappy right-hander on the jaw at the beginning of the fourth round, but Jawn bobbed up serenely and jabbed Kaufman away.

OLAA ADVANCES AND ALL STOCKS STRONG

Steady demand for Oiaa is one of the newly developed features of the market, and the stock is now quoted at 7 with a good number of shares sold at that figure. The splendid physical condition of the property, supplemented by the consolidation of the indebtedness and the twenty thousand ton crop of sugar to be sold at high prices combine to renew the interest in this stock and plantation.

The market today was not very active on account of the holiday spirit that is in the air but quite a little business was reported on the Exchange. Hawaiian Commercial is making its way toward 40, that figure being asked today. Oahu Sugar sold in good sized lots Saturday at 36.75. Pioneer has reached 221.50, Onomea is 64.50, and McBryde sold on the Board at 7.375. Ewa is 34 with 33.50 reported as bid. Quite a good sale of bonds is reported, among them being $7000 Oiaa 6s at the prevailing rate, $4000 Hilo Ex. 6s at 97 and $23,000 Hilo Railway 6s 1901 at 100.25.

There will be no session of the Exchange tomorrow.

TWO ACCIDENTS

There were two accidents this morning in the city and one of the unfortunate who was mixed in a dray affair had to be taken to the Queen's Hospital for treatment. The man, whose name is Manuel Pacheco, is employed on the additions to the Union Grill, and this morning at 9:30 o'clock he managed to get between the back of a wagon and a stone post. The unfortunate man's body was panned against the post and one of his ribs broken.

The other accident did not result in anything worse than a torn pair of pants, and as the Japanese driver of the rig which knocked down a Hawaiian boy, paid damages to the amount of $5.50 to the lad, no complaint was laid in the case.

LONDON SOCIETY HAS STILL OTHER NEW FADS

"Torture Book" and Amateur Tattoos Among the Latest.

LONDON, January 29.—In the summer houses of the river mansions, in the drawing-rooms in historic castles and great London houses and the casinos of Continental resorts, both the chic young married woman and the "smart girl about town"—as the belle of the day is dubbed in London—have, metaphorically speaking, their "torture books" up their sleeves, so that they may be at hand when the opportunity comes to pounce on any interesting subject which they wish to depict therein.

Torture books are for the moment the craze and the fashion of society, and it is a wary celebrity who can dodge the owners. The keenest rivalry exists between those who possess them as to the interest and the importance of the people who figure in their pages, and indeed many a friendship has been split because Mrs. Jones Smith secured a portrait of Carlos by himself or some other celebrity before Lady Robinson had time to apply for it.

There is usually a whole set of these torture volumes, five being the correct number. They are bound in everything from parchment to gold and silver. Now they are carved, again inlaid with jewels. The leaves are of satin, of vellum, or parchment. Possessors who love their needle may decorate art embroidery covers for them.

The most important book of the set is that in which the unhappy acquaintances of the owners are asked to draw blindfold pictures of themselves. The fact that you never had a pencil in your hand in your life is no excuse whatever for failure to comply with the request. Princess Patricia of Connaught has drawn a first caricature of herself in Miss Shonts' volume.

A "confession book" is another of the torture series. In this the victim has to set forth the transgressions of his life.

Amateur tattooing is yet another amusement of the moment which has many votaries. Princess Pless and Countess Pappenheim, the pretty American who made such a success here during the season as a hostess, are two of those who have had lessons in tattooing from a professional expert. One day recently an advertisement appeared in the columns of a morning paper stating that an expert in tattooing was required to teach the members of a house party in Scotland during September how to tattoo novel designs. A flying machine in sepi, with Mephistopheles in red as aviator, is one of the most approved designs. One woman who has arms like ivory has had this picture tattooed on the top of one shoulder. Thereby she has succeeded in attracting more attention than she ever before managed to draw.

Moved by the number of convicts who have violated paroles from Michigan prisons in the winter, several Detroit men, one of whom is Judge William P. Connolly, have formed the Jean Valjean club, the object of which is to assist paroled men.

Although she is less than 17 years old Florence Knispig of Newark, N. J. is under arrest, charged with bigamy. The police say she has admitted marriage with two men in the last year.
